attributed to the Russians' efforts to clear the mouth of the

JAPS FIGHTING ALONG
PORT ARTHUR ROAD.

One Battle Takes Place Within Fifteen
Miles of the Stronghold.

Russian Gunboat Gilliak Destroyed Saturday by a Torpedo—Tremendous Explosion Heard by Chinese Lying Offshore—Four Thousand of Gen. Stakelberg's Men Repulsed With Two Hundred Killed.

CHEFOO, June 6, 10:30 a.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] But two miles separated the Japanese and Russian armies on the Liao Tung Peninsula, June 2d, according to Chinese who have arrived here from Dalny.

The Japanese army, reinforced by the men who landed at Dalny, occupied Twing Ching and also Sanchimpo, southwest of Dalny. They then proceeded along the east coast toward Port Arthur. On one side of the army are high mountains and on the other side is the sea, from which the Japanese gunboats are supporting the flank of the army.

June 2 the Japanese forces were within seven miles of the outer forts of Port Arthur, only two miles from the Russian army, which is ready to protest their further advance. The Chinese believed that there would be a big battle at this point.

It is also stated by the Chinese that the Japanese have moved their base to Dalny from Taitenwan. The larger Japanese ships are anchored outside and the smaller ones inside the harbor.
Troops are being landed, they say, from small vessels, apparently coming from Pitsewo or the Elliott Islands. The Chinese further reported that a number of Chinese have been shot while attempting to get through the Russian lines.

Russians believed they could prove

The Russians are printing a news-

but was coldly rejected. Other con-

USE WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.
ADVANTAGE FOR MUSCOVITES.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
TOKIO, June 5, 4:30 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] It is suspected here that the Russians at Port Arthur are communicating with points on the Chinese coast by means of wireless telegraphy. It was reported that a wireless station had been erected secretly at the village of Peh Wang, on Takin Island, one of the Miao Tso group, which are situated in Pe Chi Li Strait, and the Japanese cruiser Chitose visited the island yesterday to investigate. She did not, however, find anything. It is reported that another such station has been erected near Shanhai Kwan, and the Japanese are investigating this matter.

Yesterday, the Chitose steamed in close to Liao Ti Shan Promontory and discovered four masts and a watch-house near the coast. One of these masts evidently was fitted for wireless telegraphy operations. The station was beyond the range of the Chitose's guns.

The Chitose reports having heard a series of explosions at Port Arthur, and believes them to have resulted from blasting preparatory to the emplacement of new batteries.

The Japanese torpedo-boat destroyer Ikauchii yesterday discovered and exploded a large mine off Sanshan Island, at the entrance to Taitenwan Bay. The Japanese naval authorities engaged in clearing out the mines in the vicinity of Taitenwan Bay are employing Japanese shell divers from Kushin province for the purpose.

These divers volunteered for this work, and are wonderfully expert.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—
[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Czar's secret, the lovely Zenobia, has been banished. Temporarily at least. Recently the Czar had several seances with Zenobia. In one of the first he thought he could trace rough outlines of Port Arthur, and the longer he gazed on the screen
the clearer the outlines grew, until he could plainly see Port Arthur in ruins. After this picture a number of others were shown, all of which the Czar discovered were meant to convey the idea of disaster to the Russian army. Other persons present at the seance were not quite sure whether they could read this interpretation into the pictures, but thought they could.

The last seance gave hope.
It showed the Japanese, represented by a number of black dots, all coming over the straits, evacuating Korea. Following after them were innumerable larger dots, Russians in hot chase.

Fraulein Golaczsky declines to take any remuneration for her revelations. During one of her conversations with the Czar she said she could tell him what his ministers were saying and doing. This was divulged, with the result that St. Petersburg was made too hot for Zenobia.
Where she went is not known, but the immediate entourage of the Czar takes good care that she shall not again disturb their imperial master.

Burning of Arena
at St. Louis.

Thousands Paid a Dollar to See a Bullfight Which Did Not Come Off.

When They Could Not Obtain

Fired the Structure.

World's Fair Firemen Called Out—Attack Made on Deputy Sheriffs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ST. LOUIS, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The great bullfighting arena adjoining the convention entrance to the World's Fair was burned to the ground this evening, amid the exhor-tant shouts of thousands of persons, many of whom had paid a dollar to see this afternoon to see a bullfight which had not occurred, and had sought in vain the return of the money. The wind blew the flames in the direction of the World's Fair, threatening several buildings, which the World's Fair firemen worked faithfully to protect.

Robert Norris, manager of the Merris Amusement Company, owners of the arena, is under arrest for attempting to conduct a bullfight, six weeks ago under arrest for attempting to be principals in a bullfight, and two spectators on suspicion of being implicated in the destruction of the arena.

The bullfight was advertised to begin at 2:30 o'clock. At 5 o'clock, by which time 6000 persons, including some women, had assembled, Col.
Hammill, who was in charge of the arena, ordered the firemen to be called out.

At 4:30 o'clock Col. Hammill announced the bullfight. He was in the act of introducing six toreros when the sheriff entered the arena, followed by several deputies, and read a telegram from Gov. Dockery, ordering that the proposed fight be prevented.
With the aid of revolvers, the deputies took Norris and six toreros to jail.

The spectators demanded their money back. The money had disappeared, and an attaché informed the audience that no money would be refunded. Then rioting began. After smashing the seats and fixtures of the arena, the mob started fired in the bay of the stables and several parts of the arena, first turning loose six bulls alleged vicious animals, just imported from Spain, and ten horses. The bulls strangely showed no disposition to fight.

The flames spread so rapidly that within fifteen minutes the entire structure was doomed. Mighty shouts of approval were sent up by thousands of spectators as the fire raged. Tonight the scene of the attempt to hold the bullfight is a heap of smoking ashes.

One man, Harry Hill, while champaigning for the return of his $1 admission fee, was struck on the head by a missile thrown at Norris, and was severely injured. Several other persons were hurt, but less seriously.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
ST. LOUIS, June 5.—[Innocent over their failure to see a "genuine Spanish bullfight," which the authorities had stopped, a riot was started in the arena near the World's Fair grounds this evening by a crowd of men and boys who were unable to get their money back, and the building was burned to the ground. The price of admission charged was $1. Four men were placed under arrest by the authorities of St. Louis county, charged with the destruction of property. The crowd, thinking these men were responsible for the fire, made an attempt to mob them, and in their encounter with the deputy sheriffs a number were roughly handled, and some received scalp wounds. The building is said to have cost $2500.
It is a total loss, with no insurance.

The initial performance by the company of Spanish bullfighters had been advertised widely, but the Governor, in response to numerous complaints, ordered that it not be allowed to take place. Despite these orders, a large crowd assembled in the arena at the advertised time. Before the regular performance a number of cowboys drove in some bulls which they ran around the ring in true Wild West style. The crowd soon became tired of this and called for the bullfight. The announcement was then made that the bullfight would be proceeded with. As the matadors came into the ring, a county official stepped up to the announcer and handed him a paper, informing him that the proposed show could not take place.

TIGER GOES TO SCRUBBING.

Brooklyn Must be Good and Clean, Says Murphy.

McCarren Wanted to Have City "Wide Open."

Marshall Field as an "Angel." Free-trade Bogey.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tammany Leader Charles P. Murphy caused a big political sensation today, declaring emphatically that the reason that Senator McCarren of Brooklyn, had turned traitor to Tammany and joined forces with D. B. Hill was the refusal of Mayor McClellan to throw down the bars for vice and crime and allow Brooklyn to be a "wide-open" town, Murphy said: "The people should remember that, just before the recent city election, Tammany Hall, against which the fight was made principally, promised good, clean government in the event of success. Moral foulness exists, no matter by whom encouraged, the blame will fall upon Tammany Hall, especially if the foulness is in Brooklyn. Had less concern been shown recently for the preservation of decency in Brooklyn there might have been no difference between Senator McCarren and myself, no pretense that he was opposed because of his views on the Presidential question and no excuse that he is fighting in defense of the autonomy of Brooklyn.

"In other words, the sole cause of the disagreement between us was over the fulfillment or non-fulfillment of pledges made to the people by the Democracy of this city, that the Democratic administration would not stand for blackmail and corruption of any kind anywhere in Greater New York, no matter by whom encouraged, but that the people would be given what was promised them—a clean, economical and efficient government."

FREE-TRADE BOGEY.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Platform-making is absorbing the attention of the Democratic leaders now more than the candidacy of the several favorite sons for the nomination for the Presidency. Conservative Democrats, many of whom have no real hope of seeing the party win in this national election, place great stress, however, on the kind of platform they adopt, as paving the way for a possible victory in 1908, when the Populistic taint of 1896 and 1900 has been more thoroughly eliminated.

Recent conferences in New York, in which Parker men and anti-Parker Democrats have taken part, were concerned rather with the platform, it is said on good authority, than with the question whether Parker or Gorman or some "dark horse" would be nominated in St. Louis. This is real bogey to Eastern trust "reorganizers," who want a platform enunciated which will attract the support of Rockefeller and others allied in trusts which have been unable to control or dominate the present Republican administration.

Senator Gorman has attempted to articulate a conservative tariff policy. He appears to understand better the Bourbon sentiment in the South on the tariff question than he did on the Panama canal, for it is apparent that the Southern Democracy is not as rabid for free trade as it was formerly. The iron and steel industries, cotton and agriculture all demand protection now, and "gradual revision" is about as far as most southerners will go in discussing the tariff question.

The free-trade issue is more dreaded by conservative leaders than the possibility of Judge Parker being turned down or some other candidate when the delegates get to St. Louis. The old Democratic cry of "tariff for revenue only" is no longer the shibboleth of many of the wiser heads in that party. They feel, however, embarrassment at turning the party in national convention away from that old fetish.

MARSHALL FIELD AN "ANGEL."
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. LOUIS (Mo.) June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William F. Sheehan, the Democratic leader, is here from New York to press upon State's Attorney Folk, his duty to accept the second place on the national ticket, in case Judge Parker is nominated. While Sheehan expresses hope of success, he says the Democrats have another strong card up their sleeve in case Folk positively declines. Investigation shows this card is Marshall Field, the great Chicago merchant.

It is learned that Field has been approached and has consented to run, in the event that the conservative element controls the convention. Field is a multi-millionaire, and the Democrats expect him to be a real "angel" in the event of his nomination for Vice-President.

AND THE SUN NOW SHINES OVER KANSAS.

New Danger on the Walnut—Continuous Heavy Rains in Southern Nebraska Cause a Rush of Waters. Black Hills Creeks Rampant.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 5.—After ten days of almost continuous leaden skies, the sun shone over Kansas today. With a cessation in the rains during the past twelve hours most of the rivers are gradually falling and seeking their banks, and everywhere flood conditions are improving. A slight rise was shown in some streams overnight, but it is expected that from now on all will fall rapidly. Railway schedules are still deranged, but many more trains are moving than last week, and by the middle of next week it is believed almost normal conditions will prevail.

TRAFFIC AFFECTED.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ARDMORE (I. T.) June 5.—Heavy rains continue to fall in this part of the Indian Territory, and railroad traffic is being seriously affected. The Rock Island operated no trains into Ardmore today, and trains on the "Prisco" road are being operated with difficulty, both roads experiencing numerous washouts.

DANGER IN THE WALNUT.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ARKANSAS CITY (Kan.) June 5.—While the Arkansas River has fallen in the past twelve hours, the Walnut presents a new danger to the lumber interests in the bottoms. The latter stream is rising at the rate of half an inch an hour, and now stands eighteen feet, eight inches, or two feet higher than ever before recorded. Many families in the country nearby, heretofore perfectly safe, were driven from their homes today.

SOUTHERN NEBRASKA FLOOD.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
FALLS CITY (Nebr.) June 5.—Continuous heavy rains have filled creeks and rivers in Southern Nebraska with a rush, and has caused the Nehalem to overflow the lowlands for the third time this year. Cornfields are under water, and some bridges have been carried out, but if there is no further rise, railroads, it is believed, will escape the usual June washouts.

BLACK HILLS FLOODS.
DAMAGE FATAL AND COSTLY.
DEADWOOD (S. D.) June 5.—As a result of a heavy rainfall throughout the Black Hills, which has continued for nearly a week, Whitewood, Deadwood and City Creeks, passing within the city limits, have left their banks, carrying away a number of houses, barns, sidewalks and lumber yards. The Waite building, one of the most substantial in the city, was partially wrecked and the City Hall badly damaged. One large bridge was carried away. Two lives are known to have been lost. Matthew Bender, a young man of Central City, who was drowned in an attempt to save property, and Guy Shoudy, a farmer, near Sturgis.

No trains have been able to enter Deadwood since Friday, on account of washouts. The damage was greatest at Central City, nearly all the business portion of that town being washed away. A large number of homes at Gayville, a few miles distant, were carried away, and the lower part of the town is under water. It is estimated that the property loss in Deadwood and other places, will exceed half a million dollars. The water is still high, and it is believed that the crest of the flood has been reached.

SUGAR FROM CUBA COMES IN FREELY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An immense increase in the importation of sugar from Cuba and a consequent falling-off in the production of sugar in Louisiana since the Cuban reciprocity treaty went into effect is reported by the American Protective Tariff League. There has been no increase in the consumption of sugar, and the average price, both in 1904 and 1905, was 1.37 cents a pound, thus showing that the Cubans received no more for their sugar than before the treaty. There has been no change in price to the American consumer. The net result of the treaty, then, the league figures, is that the government has lost, on the amount of sugar imported this year, about $1,000,000 in revenue, without any corresponding gain to the consumer. The figures are as follows:

	1903.	1904.	1905.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

PARIS, June 5.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says: "According to information received here, Gen. Kuroki has been suffering from a mild attack of typhus fever, but he has now recovered."

"The general belief is that Gen. Kourapatkin will not advance to the relief of Port Arthur. In any case, orders to do so have not yet been transmitted."

"I learn that England has obtained from Japan, in behalf of Russia, assurances that the Japanese will not destroy seals in Berings Sea during the war."

"It is rumored that the army corps of the St. Petersburg district will be mobilized soon. I have reason to believe that two other army corps in the central district will also be mobilized."

WARSHIPS BEACHED.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
LONDON, June 5.—Great indignation is felt in Russia over the report that several Russian ships secretly aided the recent Japanese loan.

A dispatch to the Morning Post from Shanghai says that some of the warships at Port Arthur have been beached and their guns removed to the land works.

The Standard's Tien-tsin correspondent reports that the Russian forces are being withdrawn gradually northward, the Russians being aware that a strong force of Japanese is gathering in the passes northeast of Mukden.

ST. PETERSBURG SKEPTICAL.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—The government appears to be without fresh information today of any sort concerning Port Arthur. The authorities are skeptical over the story of smoke and heavy detonations at Port Arthur, which may have been caused by the Japanese passing over mine fields on the landward side. Even this, they say, is a doubtful supposition, thus early in the siege.

It is again pointed out in official quarters that the government is not in receipt of regular information from Port Arthur, but is wholly dependent upon the reports from Japanese or neutral sources, except when a messenger succeeds in breaking through the lines. It is not expected that the embargo will soon be raised.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Japanese legation today received the following cablegram from the home government at Tokio, bearing on events at Port Arthur:

"Admiral Togo reports that, according to a message received by him through wireless telegraphy from the cruiser Chitose, which was cruising near Port Arthur, four masts, one with wireless-telegraphic instruments and a sentry box, were seen on the top of Liao Ti Shan. Great explosions were heard and rising of dense smoke was observed repeatedly in the direction of Port Arthur during Saturday."

RUSSIAN CREDIT NOTES.
LONDON, June 5.—The whole of the $100,000,000 Russian credit notes are said to have been absorbed by French investors, and the price has now reached a small premium. This evidence of confidence on the part of France had a strengthening effect on the Stock Exchange last week, most of the foreign bonds showing firmness, although little business was transacted in any market.

The American securities continued irregular and depressed, and there seems little hope of reviving before the election. Kaffirs did not show any sign of real revival of business. On the whole, however, prices are expected to be better.

CURTAIN DRAWN AND CRISIS ON.
RUSSIA IS HAVING FAMILY TROUBLES AT HOME.

London Daily Mail's Correspondent Says Lamsdorf is Likely to be Sacrificed to Popular Indignation. Increasing Anxiety Felt Over Restlessness of Chinese Troops.

LONDON, June 5.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The curtain is drawn again, in view of the progress of the war, probably indicating that important events are impending or afoot. The explosions heard at Port Arthur suggest that the Russians have renewed their attempts to remove obstructions in the mouth of the harbor. All kinds of rumors are current, few of which appear to have any reliable basis.

Various special correspondents in St. Petersburg report increasing depression in Russia over the prospect of the fall of Port Arthur, and say that wild reports are in circulation as to dissensions between the generals and the highest officials over questions of policy and strategy. The Daily Mail gives great prominence to a statement, "From a Russian correspondent," declaring that Russia will stand or fall by Port Arthur, as far as the government prestige with the lower classes is concerned.

"Internal troubles are inevitable," the correspondent says, "should the fortress fall. Count Lamsdorf displays a strong personality, but his position is precarious, and he is likely to be sacrificed as a scapegoat to popular indignation at the way the war has been conducted. Although it is said that Gen. Kourapatkin has lost favor at court, no change in the command of the army is contemplated."

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Agency says that increasing anxiety is felt over the restlessness of Chinese troops on the Manchurian frontier.

The Morning Post correspondent in St. Petersburg goes so far as to say that Russia is preparing to cope with a Chinese invasion. A dispatch to the Standard from St. Petersburg asserts that no propositions whatever are to be, or have been made to organize a transport service down the great waterways of the Sungari and Amur Rivers.

RUBIANS BACKED OFF.
TWO CONFLICTS LAST WEEK.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
TOKIO, June 5, 6 p.m.—The Japanese and Russian forces located north of Pulantien which were in a series of brushes during the early part of last week, had another encounter Friday, June 3, near Chu Chia Tun. That day the Japanese cavalry met the Russians at noon. The Russians numbered 2000 men, and were composed of infantry detachments of cavalry and artillery. They were passing the Japanese cavalry when the Japanese assembled their entire forces and engaged the enemy. The Russians drew off gradually, and at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon they retired to Telissu. The Japanese had four men killed and four men wounded in this fighting.

A report has been received here from Gen. Kuroki saying that, Friday last, a detachment was dispatched warships at Port Arthur have been beached and their guns removed to the land works.

The Standard's Tien-tsin correspondent reports that the Russian forces are being withdrawn gradually northward, the Russians being aware that a strong force of Japanese is gathering in the passes northeast of Mukden.

ST. PETERSBURG SKEPTICAL.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, June 5.—The government appears to be without fresh information today of any sort concerning Port Arthur. The authorities are skeptical over the story of smoke and heavy detonations at Port Arthur, which may have been caused by the Japanese passing over mine fields on the landward side. Even this, they say, is a doubtful supposition, thus early in the siege.

It is again pointed out in official quarters that the government is not in receipt of regular information from Port Arthur, but is wholly dependent upon the reports from Japanese or neutral sources, except when a messenger succeeds in breaking through the lines. It is not expected that the embargo will soon be raised.

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Japanese legation today received the following cablegram from the home government at Tokio, bearing on events at Port Arthur:

"Admiral Togo reports that, according to a message received by him through wireless telegraphy from the cruiser Chitose, which was cruising near Port Arthur, four masts, one with wireless-telegraphic instruments and a sentry box, were seen on the top of Liao Ti Shan. Great explosions were heard and rising of dense smoke was observed repeatedly in the direction of Port Arthur during Saturday."

RUSSIAN CREDIT NOTES.
LONDON, June 5.—The whole of the $100,000,000 Russian credit notes are said to have been absorbed by French investors, and the price has now reached a small premium. This evidence of confidence on the part of France had a strengthening effect on the Stock Exchange last week, most of the foreign bonds showing firmness, although little business was transacted in any market.

The American securities continued irregular and depressed, and there seems little hope of reviving before the election. Kaffirs did not show any sign of real revival of business. On the whole, however, prices are expected to be better.

CURTAIN DRAWN AND CRISIS ON.
RUSSIA IS HAVING FAMILY TROUBLES AT HOME.

London Daily Mail's Correspondent Says Lamsdorf is Likely to be Sacrificed to Popular Indignation. Increasing Anxiety Felt Over Restlessness of Chinese Troops.

LONDON, June 5.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The curtain is drawn again, in view of the progress of the war, probably indicating that important events are impending or afoot. The explosions heard at Port Arthur suggest that the Russians have renewed their attempts to remove obstructions in the mouth of the harbor. All kinds of rumors are current, few of which appear to have any reliable basis.

Various special correspondents in St. Petersburg report increasing depression in Russia over the prospect of the fall of Port Arthur, and say that wild reports are in circulation as to dissensions between the generals and the highest officials over questions of policy and strategy. The Daily Mail gives great prominence to a statement, "From a Russian correspondent," declaring that Russia will stand or fall by Port Arthur, as far as the government prestige with the lower classes is concerned.

"Internal troubles are inevitable," the correspondent says, "should the fortress fall. Count Lamsdorf displays a strong personality, but his position is precarious, and he is likely to be sacrificed as a scapegoat to popular indignation at the way the war has been conducted. ## CASCARA FOR UNEMPLOYED.

Mill Hands Out of Work go to Peeling Bark.

Others of the Ex-workers Join the Tramp Army.

Steamer Pleiades Loses Propeller—Mutinuous Seamen.

TACOMA (Wash.) June 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The closing of logging camps and lumber and shingle mills is throwing hundreds of men out of work on the Columbia River, Gray's Harbor and Puget Sound. Some of the ex-workers are joining the army of tramps which is proceeding southward through Oregon toward California. Many others are waiting until fall, in expectation that the lumbering operations will become normal again by September.

Several hundred men and boys have started to gather cascara bark from the forests of Southern Washington. At Chehalis, two firms bought up a large acreage of cascara, and will hold the product for a rise in price. Employed loggers are going through the forests peeling bark wherever they find it and gathering it in gunny sacks. The price ranges from 3 to 5 cents, but many peelers are storing the bark, believing that another year will bring better values.

DRIVING ROD BROKE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The steamer Pleiades tonight received word from the Island station that the German steamer Nicodemus had passed in, having in tow the steamer Pleiades, which had lost her propeller in a storm. The Nicodemus is from Antofagasta, Chile, and the Pleiades is from Yokohama for Seattle.

SAN FRANCISCO FOOTPADS.

PATROLMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Several hold-ups by footpads on the waterfront were reported to the police last night, and a number of policemen in plain clothes were sent in search of the criminals. Patrolman Conlon encountered two men, who, he said, were about to stand him up, but his revolver was cut first, and he marched them to the Harbor Station. One of the men tried to draw his revolver, but Conlon felled him. The other prisoner escaped.

The remaining suspect was taken to the hospital for treatment, and a meal.

While running at a high rate of speed a Monon excursion train from Hammond, Ind., was wrecked here today by a defective rail. The engine and four coaches were thrown from the track and almost buried in the embankment. None of the 300 passengers was seriously injured. A special thanksgiving service will be held by the excursionists at a little church near the railroad.

STEEL PLANTS CURTAILING.

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) June 5.—

NAUGHTY PEARL MORTON AS RICH WIDOW ROBERTS.

CHARMING Colegrove has found a better sweet in the expensive and expansive pile of architecture which adorns one of its principal corners, and not even the prodigious wealth of an owner which is being lavishly poured forth in the rich furnishings of this large building can make it look just right to some of the residents of the northwestern suburb of Los Angeles.

Located at the corner of Santa Monica avenue and Wilbur street on the Colegrove line, and about a mile and a half from the Los Angeles city limits, is the handsome mansion of the notorious Pearl Morton, or as she prefers to be called in that neighborhood Mrs. Roberts, a widow, who has recently lost her husband in Arizona.

This building is just now being fitted up in the most lavish style, without regard to expense. The building itself, it is said, represents an outlay of over $12,000, and the choicest woods have been used in its construction. There are polished hardwood floors, mahogany-paneled walls, noble pillars and imposing balustrades. Art glass adorns the windows, and the grand staircase is illuminated with three windows that represent an outlay of $500 each.

In keeping with this are the fittings of the gorgeous interior. Carpets and rugs lie on the highly-polished floors which one's feet sink like treading in a bed of luscious clover; languorous chairs are placed in cosy nooks, and every room and hallway is lighted with the voluptuous colorings of artist-hued globes, in which scarlet, blue, green and gold are blended in the most harmonious and artistic manner.

There are fourteen rooms in the establishment, and each of these is a complete picture in itself of royal extravagance. There are all the latest designs in the various bath rooms, and, in fact, this building combines all that a modern house could think of in the way of attractive features.

Ordinarily, a community would never see such a building, but ever since the frequent visits of the brightly Morton, accompanied by her maid, "Pat," there have been appreciative glances in the neighborhood, and it is now said that the acquisition of the Widow Roberts is not at all relished by some of the neighbors and townpeople.

The place at present is in charge of a colored man and woman, and they, with the well-known bulldog, "Pat," have complete possession. That the building was erected for the purpose of a notorious club is a matter of general belief, but since the sentiment against allowing any such institution to open its doors in Colegrove has so loudly proclaimed itself, it is said that the Morton woman has given out the word that her "ladies" will not be taken out there.

The present proposition appears to be a sort of feminine Dr. Jekyll and Hyde affair. In the city Pearl Morton is known as the chief of the "madames" who have a retinue of ladies to entertain visitors—in Colegrove this woman is to be known as

Mrs. Roberts, the widow, who has a beautifully-furnished country home. This force of Morton, however, does not go down with the people who have been watching the progress of the house, and the manner in which it is fitted up. It is believed that Pearl Morton's "ladies" will be installed in the residence, and that the reports to the contrary are simply to blind the community until this notorious woman has things fixed just to her fancy.

Yesterday the bulldog, "Pat," occupied a conspicuous position at the door of the barn, and patiently awaited the coming of his mistress, a motherly-looking colored "mammy" swept the floors of the great long porch, and kept a keen eye out for visitors, and when questioned about the ownership of the house readily admitted that she was instructed to show callers through the house if they so desired.

HELPING MURPHY.

Engineers Had Their Hands on the Gospel Temperance Throttle Last Night.

The presence of two representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the platform in Blanchard hall and a large number of them in an audience, made the Francis Murphy gospel temperance meeting last night a notable one.

Engineer Hiner, in a striking address, which he said was the first temperance address he had ever attempted to deliver, declared that if there was any man who should shun him it is the man with his hand upon a throttle and his eye upon the rail.

Behind him sat Mr. Baker, the favored blind singer. As Mr. Hiner closed a talk Mr. Baker said he had a railroad song he would like to sing. With tender pathos and in a voice like silver bell he sang it, each verse ending with, "When your hand is on the throttle and your eye is on the rail." The effect on the audience was remarkable, and the singer was applauded time after time.

Chaplain Dority of the Engineers made a splendid talk, in which he related some of his own experience, beginning with a period forty years ago, when he began his career as a teamster in Boston. For thirty years he has been a locomotive engineer, and in his life has never taken a drink of liquor.

Mr. Murphy spoke briefly upon his side of the beautiful, paying a richly-tribute to the flowers of California.

Other vocal numbers were given by Mrs. French, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Miss Alice Goodwin and Hugh Callender. The meeting closed with appeals to raise money to sign the pledge. The meeting was held in the hall of the Locomotive Engineers, J. W. Eccleston and Mr. Agnes, after which a large number of persons went forward and affixed their names to the pledge. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic, and the hall was packed until many could not get in.

CORPUS CHRISTI.

Imposing Ceremonies and Procession at Cathedral of St. Vibiana—Large Class Confirmed.

The solemnization of the Feast of Corpus Christi was observed in the Roman Catholic church yesterday, having been transferred from last Thursday. Interesting ceremonies were conducted at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana, and were witnessed by the usual throngs of people on high days in the church calendar.

A solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. George Donohoe, the bishop's secretary. Rev. William Quinn was the deacon, and Rev. T. S. Fahy acted as master of ceremonies. The Rev. S. Fahy, contractor, F. C. Heald, malheur, tenor, and A. G. Greer, bass, for the offertory Miss Scanlon sang "Salve Regina," by Marso.

The augmented choir, in charge of A. J. Stamm, rendered Haydn's "Te Deum" in D minor, and the soloists were Mrs. Mary Allen, soprano; Miss Lillie Scanlon, contralto; F. C. Heald, malheur, tenor; and A. G. Greer, bass. For the offertory Miss Scanlon sang "Salve Regina," by Marso.

MELANCHOLY SIWASHES.

Washington Indians Who Decorate the Sidewalks of Seattle With Their Wares.

[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.] Under the influence of the summer sun the Siwash have taken to their winter hibernations and run out over the city sidewalks, collecting here and there in little pools. It is one of the sure signs of spring. In the winter they sometimes mournfully parade the streets with their blankets, huddled closely around them, but they refrain from making sidewalk decorations of themselves.

Sometimes the family meander up to the street in company, their funeral countenances lighted up with the expression of the mummies embalmed by the moonlight. Sooner or later the Siwash usually carries an infant about the size of a summer squash and possessed of equal animation.

LITTLE MAY FINDS MOTHER.

Mystery Surrounds Case of Phoenix Child.

Whisked Out from Deaconess Home in the Dark.

Papa and Mama Dunbar Won't Give Address.

Little May McCullough, the five-year-old tot who was shipped to Los Angeles from Phoenix by her grandfather and who could not find her parents even with the aid of the police, was claimed by them last night at the Deaconess Home, where she had been left for safe keeping. She was whisked away in secrecy, her stepfather and own mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunbar, refusing to give their address. Grabbing her like a satchel which was a burdensome nuisance, they hurriedly left the home and disappeared into the darkness, leaving the little deaconess, who had befriended May, without so much as a "thank you."

"We were out to the Chutes for supper and happened to pick up a Times and read of the arrival of May from Arizona and have come to get her," said Dunbar upon arriving at the home about 8 o'clock. "We have no idea why she was sent on here," said the mother, "and cannot understand why the grandfather won't keep her or why he did not let us know that she was coming."

The little girl was called downstairs and seemed overjoyed to find her mother, but the affection was coldly returned.

"Get your things and come," said Dunbar nervously as he whisked her out in his hand and stood first on one foot and then on the other.

"Where is your address?" asked the Traveler's Aid Deaconess.

"Oh, we live just over on Wall street," was the evasive answer from Dunbar. "Did the child have any duds?"

"Is it in walking distance? She must not catch cold," and the kind-hearted woman of the home placed her arm about the shoulders of the bright little girl whom nobody seemed to want.

"We came on the car," Mrs. Dunbar responded, and as her husband reached for the door she said, "Come, May, we will go now."

"But will you not tell me where you live so that I may know where the child has gone?" interposed the foster mother with justifiable persistence.

"Why, on Wall street," was Dunbar's gratifying answer.

The mystery in connection with this episode is thought to be due to a shortage of money on Dunbar's part and his easiness may be attributed to the pursuit of creditors. Dunbar has been in the employment of the Pacific Electric Railway Company until about ten days ago, at which time, learning that he was to be discharged, he parted with his badge, left behind a credit of $25, which has been attached by several creditors. Evidently wishing to drop the matter, he left his lodgings at No. 1310 Temple street, where his wife had been doing work about the house in exchange for her board, and he has been located since, although the police, the Pacific Electric Railway Company and creditors have been searching for him.

Inquiry of the publisher of the office of the Pacific Electric as to who his friends are was answered with the statement: "He has no money among the boys and nobody can find him."

Dunbar formerly worked for the Southern Pacific, and was discharged from that company on account of his debt to such an extent that he had to clear out to get rid of collectors.

When Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bridgman of Phoenix sent their grandchild May to Los Angeles they put her in the hands of J. L. Gilkerson, a school teacher of Phoenix, who was visiting in Ventura. Gilkerson was given a letter from Bridgman, a portion of which reads as follows: "After you find Dunbar, please let him know that you can deliver the girl to her."

The grandfather evidently is not aware that Mrs. McCullough is now Mrs. Dunbar.

ON GRAVES OF WOODMEN.

Garlands Laid by Faithful of Two Orders.

Double Memorial Day and its Touching Rituals.

Address at Rosedale Cemetery by Mayor Snyder.

Out in palm-landed Rosedale Cemetery yesterday afternoon, on the double Memorial Day, the cold gray mists of death sparkled brightly under the vital touch of the cheer of the living. The Woodmen of the World and the Women of Woodcraft conducted a beautiful memorial service over the graves of their dead, in commemoration of their annual memorial day.

The crowd that gathered on the green slopes, to witness the solemn service, was very large. Two monuments were formally unveiled, one by the Woodmen and one by the Women of Woodcraft.

The camps of the former organization that marched in uniform were La Pinta, No. 41; Los Angeles, No. 42; Fremont, No. 43; Eastlake, No. 253; and David, No. 545. The women's circle in line were Poinsettia, Golden Gate, Los Angeles and Laurus.

The service was in charge of the Woodmen, with Mrs. A. B. Berne, Master of Ceremonies; T. L. Chapin, Counselor; Commander, Frank Bailey, Advisor; and Dr. L. D. Swartout, Master of the Volk, Clerk; Mr. Henry, Master of the Volk, Clerk; Mr. Henry, Master of the Volk, Clerk.

The poem was read by Master of Ceremonies, and the service was conducted by Poinsettia Circle, the officers of the afternoon being Eva Portman, Guardian Neighbor; Katie Lynch, Guardian Neighbor; Mrs. Brazier, Advisor; Mrs. Coon, Magician; Mrs. Hicks, Clerk; Rose Willey, Treasurer; Anna Schmidt, Attendant; Mrs. Connett, Inner Sentinel; Katherine, Outer Sentinel; Mattie, Master of the Volk, Clerk.

The service was read by Miss B. M. W. A. CAMP. MEMORIAL EXERCISES. The corner of First and Spring streets was gray yesterday afternoon with the many uniforms of the different W. A. camps, yet a little bow of crepe on sword-hilt and ax handle told a story of solemn recollection, past sorrows and reviving memories.

The formal services were held in the hall of the Pacific Camp, at No. 225 S. Broadway, at the left of H. F. Golden State Camp, No. 7345, and the services were conducted under the direction of Dr. H. F. Golden State Camp, No. 7345, and the services were conducted under the direction of Dr. H. F. Golden State Camp, No. 7345.

The speaker was Rev. E. A. Stellar, pastor of the Hollywood Methodist Church. Rev. Stellar is also a Woodman, and spoke with deep feeling. In the course of his address he said: "I feel deeply that I have been chosen to deliver this address on such an occasion. Today we ought to remember the memory of our dead, and we should be the grateful to them for the message of peace, for this is the token of manhood, the triumph of a life. Life is a warfare—a struggle to try the soul, it may be, and to those who have finished we bring high tribute, as we remind ourselves of the message of rest, the peace of the triumphant passing of well-lived lives."

Since 1890 the Modern Woodmen have observed June's first Sabbath as a day of recreational remembrance and grave-decoration. At the special cars were taken to Evergreen Cemetery, and from there to Rosedale Cemetery. At these burial services simple ritualistic services were held, and known Woodmen graves, whether possessed or friends or not, were tenderly remembered.

Woman Whose Reason Was Deprived Fires Shots at Imaginary Foes.

The sound of many shots fired in rapid succession at No. 744 1/2 San Julian street, and the running to cover of persons near that house yesterday morning caused some excited citizen to notify police headquarters that a murder had been committed there. Patrolman Busse was sent out, and found the street full of people and several citizens guarding the entrance to the building. Inside the officer found Mrs. Louis Lock armed with a big revolver with which she had fired several shots at passers-by thinking them enemies who were about to injure her. The woman was insane, and, at the approach of the officer, she quietly surrendered her weapon and told him that she had been attacked and fired in self defense. None of the shots had wounded any person, but bullet holes were found in the walls and furniture. The woman imagined that her enemies would return, and begged the officer to remain there to protect her. Her relatives agreed to care for her and she was not taken into custody. Later in the day she became violent again and Patrolmen Maraville and McKenzie placed her under arrest on a charge of insanity. The case is a sad one. The woman is well educated and has a family. The insanity is due to a nervous ailment of long duration.

Great June Sale of Undermuslins

LOOKED FORWARD TO BY MANY THOUSANDS OF PLEASED PATRONS

This particular June Sale of Fine Undermuslins from France—and the best examples of American manufacture—will be better and broader than any of its predecessors, for experience has taught us many profitable lessons; besides having been more fortunate in our buying than ever before.

But don't come here expecting bankrupt stocks—bought for the purpose of flaunting fictitious values before an unsuspecting public, at impossible reductions. We gather only the choicest goods from the world's best sources of supply, and pass them on to our patrons at closest possible profits.

Corset Covers

from 25c by easy stages up to $5.00. Pay whatever price you please—you're sure of getting your money's worth, and more. Extensive variety, carefully selected materials and fine examples of needlecraft are characteristic of the distinguished Coulter garments from the ordinary kinds.

Corset covers at 25c, of good quality cambric, low neck, trimmed with lace edging and washed with 3 rows of insertion.

Beautiful Skirts

Even the skirts at a dollar are surprisingly fine and well made. These at one-fifty and two dollars not only show careful needlework, but the materials are particularly fine, while the $3.00 and $5.00 styles are perfect beauties.

Drawers, 50c up

No such assortment, no such values, in any other Los Angeles store. It is needless to enumerate; you'll find all the best styles here. Many of the French hand-made Drawers show an exclusive style confined to us. Values in these lines are truly remarkable.

Drawers at 25c, of really good muslin, cut generally full; deep hemstitched ruffle and cluster of fine tucks; extra value.

Gowns, 50c up

Judge any underwear stock by its gowns, and you won't be far from the facts. We're particularly strong on fine gowns—from $5.00 to $25.00; but don't think by that we're neglected the medium grades, for we haven't.

BOY THROTTLED
BY INSANE NEGRO.

While playing in front of his home, No. 1123 East First street, yesterday afternoon, the 9-year-old son of W. J. Ramey was attacked by an insane negro, and but for the timely arrival of his father the boy might have been killed. The negro's name is Eddie Boone, alias Ben Woodard, and he has been under arrest before, but his mental condition is known to be such that he was not prosecuted. He was not considered dangerous, and except during certain periods he appeared to be entirely rational.

What caused the assault yesterday is not known, but it is believed that some of the children on the street were teasing the negro. He became enraged, and running after the Ramey boy seized him by the throat and began choking him. The approach of other persons did not cause him to let go, and he continued to strangle the boy. The cries of the children attracted the attention of the boy's father, who seized a pitchfork and went to the assistance of his son, who by that time was almost unconscious. Had the father been able to reach the negro there would have been a tragedy, for Ramey would have run him through with his pitchfork. At the approach of Ramey, however, the negro took to his heels and ran along First street. He was pursued at a distance by a number of persons. The chase continued until the Santa Fe yards were reached. Meanwhile Patrolman Walsh had joined in the chase and he caught up with the negro just as he reached the railroad yards. The fugitive put up a desperate fight, and it was necessary for the officer to knock the negro down and handcuff him.

While on the way to jail in a patrol wagon Ramey again tried to escape, but was held by the officers. He was booked on a charge of insanity and a complaint will be filed against him in the Superior Court today. Owing to his mental condition it would be impossible to successfully prosecute him for having assaulted the child.

The boy is not seriously injured, but he suffered much pain.

Animal Stories for the Little Ones.

A JOLLY INSECT.

The Potato Bug that Made Faces.

THERE was once a jolly potato bug in a striped suit. He lived on the potato vines in Farmer Brown's garden.

One day Farmer Brown came through the patch throwing handfuls of his powder all over the leaves. The time, and it was intended to kill potato bugs. So the potato bug hid under a leaf and stayed there all the time. Then he came out and made faces at the farmer's face.

By and bye the potato bug changed his suit for a spotted one. He was a new potato bug, and kept looking out at the men with powder. Soon there came a green powder, sprinkling it on the leaves. Master Potato Bug hid under a leaf once more, and when the man was gone past he again came out and made faces at his back.

He thought now that he should be safe for the rest of his life; but Farmer Brown had promised his son Billy a round silver dollar if he would bring to him a can of po-ture and weary that he took it up and put it in his wheelbarrow, where it rode along as proud as a prince. The ragman was troubled, for he knew that somebody must love that dog very much and hate to lose it. The next morning he saw in the paper this advertisement:

LOST—A silver-haired terrier; answers to the name of Rags. Return to Eddie Beecher and receive reward.

The street and number were in the advertisement. The ragman laughed as he read it. "Answers to the name of Rags!" he said. "Well, I guess he does—and he answered to it once too often."

So he took Rags back to Eddie, and the little boy says he will keep the dog shut after this when the ragman is going past.

The dancing bear once tired grew, And shook his wise old head; He whispered to his master low: "Let's change about instead."

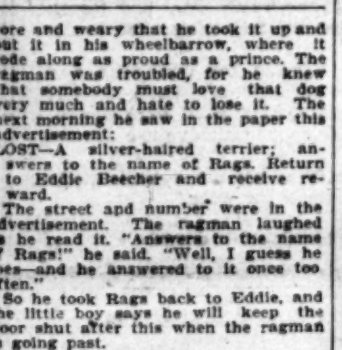

The master who presided o'er The show along the way, He scratched his ear and answered back: "Perhaps the thing will pay."

saw this, and more angry when her mistress told her she should have kept the cat covered. "Till he even with that little black rascal," she said. And she put a handful of red pepper in the garbage can and left it open.

My-my-my! That pony thought he'd swallowed a hive of bees or a hornet's nest!

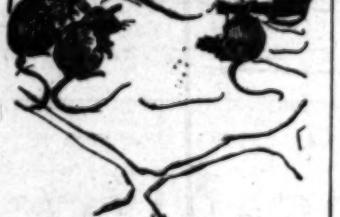

But he was a wise little fellow, and he waited to see what he could do to get even with the cruel cook. A day or two after she left her kitchen door open with a baking of bread just coming off on the kitchen table. The little black pony could walk up steps as well as you or I. He was into the kitchen as soon as the cook's back was turned, and he ate three leaves of bread before anybody found him.

The cook threatens what she'll do if that pony ever eats up any more of her bread; but the little girl who owns him happened to know about the pepper, and she says her pony was just trying to get even, and that she thinks he was very clever about it. I don't don't you?

The Mice with the Tail Muffs. Mrs. Mouse lived in the wall with her six little mice. They always had cold, cold tails. This made the little mice cry. "Quee-quee!" they said. "Hush—hush—hush!" Mother Mouse, "The cat will hear you."

"We don't care if she does, Mother Mouse; we don't care if the cat does hear us, and eat up every bit up our tails are so cold, Mother Mouse," the little mice cried, all together.

That day Mother Mouse stood in the door of the mouse hole, which came out just under the dressing table where a dear little girl was being got ready to go to town. Nurse sat on her blue velvet coat and her blue silk bonnet, then gave her her little white fur collar and muff. "Oh! me!" signed

MRS. MOUSE AND HER CHILDREN.

Mother Mouse, "if only I had muffs to keep my poor children's tails warm!" So then she went to the dress room and begged him to give the little girl a dream about half of it.

But the dream mouse remembered every word, and next day the little girl asked mamma for some white flannel and some white velvet, out of which she made six little muffs, and shaped them over her finger. These she dropped down at the door of the mouse hole. The next day the little girl asked mamma for some white flannel and some white velvet, out of which she made six little muffs, and shaped them over her finger. These she dropped down at the door of the mouse hole.

Devoid of foliage which varies the appearance of other plants so greatly, the cactuses, depending upon stem development for variety of growth, present as diverse forms as any of the more favored families of plants, while the beauty of their flowers is exceeded by none.

In manner of growth the cactuses vary from vines which extend to great lengths, clinging to trees for support, to great, tree-like plants, and from small clusters of small flat joints, clinging humbly to rocks, to stately branching columns rising forty feet or more above the sandy plains.

In color the blooms range through all the various shades of red, yellow and orange to white and a few purple blossoms. While some of the blooms are insignificant, most of them are very beautiful and many are deliciously fragrant, while numbers of them, especially among the blossoms of the cereus group, are exceedingly large. One of the night bloomers in the garden develops blossoms eighteen inches or more in diameter.

The fruits of several of the cactuses are edible and some of the larger varieties of plants, denuded of their spines, afford acceptable fodder for live stock.

Man has learned to utilize the plants in various ways, among others for fencing and hedges, while the Indians early learned how to rob some of the larger varieties of their great stores of water.

Unusual success has attended the efforts of those in charge of the cactus collection in the garden conservatories and hundreds of the plants have bloomed profusely and others are now developing their handsome blossoms.

Notable among those which are preparing to bloom are specimens of the cereus giganteus obtained by Dr. MacDougal. They represent the largest known species of cactus and were never before known to bloom in captivity.

The garden specimens have developed blossoms twice in the conservatory and are now preparing to bloom for a third time.

Dr. MacDougal's last expedition to desert localities he obtained in California a species of cactus now determined to be new to science. It grows in what is confidently believed to be the driest portion of the globe, a land where the average humidity for months possibly for years, is less than that of an ordinary heated room. It is a brittle specimen completely encased in a network of vicious spines so dense that an ordinary lead pencil could not be passed between them at any point on the plant's surface.

It is believed that further knowledge of the habits and characteristics of cactuses may point to effectual ways of reclaiming the vast tracts of desert lands peculiar to all countries. Efforts in this direction are mainly confined to irrigation, but botanists believe they may aid materially on new lines of endeavor in the task of subjugating the desert to man's use. And it is possible that the cactus, whose habits range from Acapulco to Patagonia, may play an important part in the scheme.

MOSQUITOES RETARDERS.
Pests Make Life Miserable at the Reefs of Louisiana for Workers in Oyster Beds.

[New Orleans Times-Democrat:] Just what the status of the oyster industry in Louisiana is at present would be hard to say. Anyhow, whatever it is, the mosquito and his bill are important factors.

To the marsh mosquito can be attributed the lack of canning factories in Louisiana. It is due to this same cause that many of the oyster reefs are visited only on rare occasions. Recently the Oyster Commission of Louisiana, after a trip through Vermilion Bay, into the Gulf of Mexico, issued notice that oysters in large quantities had been found in the deep waters of the gulf. These reefs, the commission said, had not been previously known. As a matter of fact, oyster fishermen in Louisiana have known of these reefs for many years. They are just outside Marsh Island, and some years ago were visited by oyster fishermen. At the time of the visits of these fishermen the mosquitoes in that vicinity were exceedingly annoying. The reefs, known among the oyster fishermen as Blind Man's reefs, were rarely visited on this account. Another reason for the neglect of these reefs by the fishermen is that the weather conditions seldom favor a visit of an oyster lugger or fishing boat. No lugger can be safely handled on the outside of the island in a southeast wind, and as this seems to be the prevailing wind, luggers rarely visit these reefs.

At a meeting of oystermen held yesterday it was stated that in the oyster territory mosquitoes at times were so bad, men engaged in fishing were forced to leave the vicinity. It has been suggested that canning factories be placed in the oyster territory. This would be impracticable. The mosquitoes are so bad, he said, that men can not be secured to work in factories in the oyster territory.

A Louisiana oysterman has addressed a communication to the Louisiana Legislature, dealing with the Louisiana oyster industry. This letter asks that certain amendments be made in the oyster law, and in speaking of the locating of factories near the oyster beds, near the haunts of mosquitoes, says that to employ men to go into that section to work would be worse than condemning them to terms in prison.

ons. He refers to the mosquito territory as "the Siberia of Louisiana." That the mosquito figures prominently in the oyster industry net many will deny. J. B. Baylor of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, who made a survey of the Louisiana oyster beds, was forced to give up the work shortly after he started on account of the mosquitoes. He waited until the season when the formidable army of pests thinned out, and then completed his task.

What He Proposed to Reduce.
Gen. Leonard Wood, at one time a surgeon himself, is fond of stories in which the joke is on the doctor. He tells this one:

A doctor was sought by a man who fancied there was something wrong with his heart. The physician made a cursory examination, which disclosed a large swelling in the man's cardiac region.

"There certainly appears to be an extraordinary swelling right here," said the physician, tapping with his finger on the man's side. "We must reduce this at once, sir; at once!"

"Oh, Doc!" he exclaimed, "that swelling is my pocket book! Don't reduce it too much, please."—(New York Press.)

UNIVERSITY.

THE commencement season of the University of Southern California opens this evening, with class-day exercises by the graduating class of the academic department in the college chapel. In many respects the commencement this year will be the greatest the institution has ever held. On the evening of commencement day, June 16, sixty students will receive the degrees and certificates of the institution. The Dental College has already held its exercises, at which time eighteen students became full-fledged dentists, making a total of seventy-eight pupils to graduate from the university this year, which is considerably in advance of the record of any previous year. The programme is an unusually interesting one. Thursday evening in the chapel will be held the annual exercises of the Aristotelian Literary Society. The young ladies of the Athenian Literary Society will give their annual programme in the chapel Friday evening. The entertainment is to be followed by a reception in the society hall of the college. President and Mrs. Bovard will receive the members of the senior class at the Board of Trustees' residence on West Thirty-third street Saturday evening. At 11 o'clock Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Henry A. Butts, president of the Theological Seminary, will preach the annual Baccalaureate sermon in the University Methodist Church. The College of Oratory will give an entertainment Monday, June 12, and the following night the annual music concert will be held. Wednesday afternoon has been given over to the senior class, who will perform the Ivy ceremony on the campus. In the evening, the graduating exercises of the academic department will be held in the University Methodist Church. Six members of the graduating class will deliver orations. On Thursday evening comes commencement proper. Dr. E. H. McClish, president of the University of the Pacific, will deliver the address and President Bovard of the University of Southern California will confer the degrees.

Miss Bertha Rose of No. 727 West Thirtieth street is to entertain Saturday in honor of Miss Alice Wilney, whose engagement to H. G. Traver of New York was recently announced. M. O. Anderson and wife of San Pedro have rented the cottage at No. 81 West Portland street. E. Canfield of No. 3218 Key West street has gone to Chicago for a two months' visit. The girls of the second academy class entertained the class at the home of the Misses Woodhead last Saturday evening. About twenty members of the class were present. Mrs. James Gregory of West Thirty-eighth street gave a pleasant children's party in honor of the fourteenth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Alice, Friday afternoon. A. B. Nash is building a pretty seven-room cottage at No. 2815 Vermont avenue.

VERNON.

The improvements on the Vernon Congregational Church are well in progress and plans have been made for the dedication about the middle of the month. Rev. William Davies, pastor, pronounced yesterday morning in "The Gloria of Old Age." The Women's Missionary Society of this church will be received next Friday at the home of M. D. Draper, No. 1822 East Adams street. The Vernon Improvement Association will meet evening at the home of Isaac Smith, No. 1157 East Forty-fifth street. The women of Vernon are now eligible to membership in this association, and are taking much interest in the work that has been started. An interesting social event was the Maypole dance given under the auspices of Lady West River, Ladies of the Macabees, last Tuesday evening in Akey's Hall, about thirty children participated. The affair was under the direction of Miss A. L. Shipley, Mary Douthwaite and Taylor. The five netted about $40 for its general fund. G. L. Lehner has begun the erection of the four cottages on San Pedro street between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-fifth streets, running from $1000 to $1500 in cost. J. Unfried is building a $1500 residence on East Forty-third street between San Pedro street and South Park avenue. Mrs. Inez G. Vaughan is having built for her home a cottage at No. 1453 East Forty-sixth street. R. Shuttlesworth has built a temporary home for himself at No. 5215 Compton avenue, and at the northeast corner of Compton avenue and East Fifty-third street Bernard Gallagher has built a home. M. J. Colby is the owner of a four-room cottage now building at No. 947 East Fifty-fourth street. Gus Albin is building a temporary home here. He is located at No. 1753 East Fifty-fifth street.

SOUTH LOS ANGELES.

The two-story Luney Block on East Thirty-third street, near Central avenue, is completed and is now being occupied. There are stores below and flats above. About thirty of the Congregational young people are planning for a "Folk's concert" to be given in costume on June 11th. Twenty-five members of R. E. Thorpe's class in the Central Avenue Congregational Sunday-school enjoyed an all-day picnic at Playa del Rey last Monday. The Central-avenue station of the Southern Pacific has been moved to the south side of the track, adjoining the Pacific Electric, and the new station of land to the north of the railroad and lying east of Central avenue, is being fitted up for a large lumber yard by the E. K. Wood Lumber Company. At No. 1428 East Forty-sixth street Mrs. A. Behrens is having built a four-room cottage for her own home. Lewis Haney is the owner of a cottage being built at No. 663 East Forty-eighth street. An $1800 cottage for Louis Chozimoff is being erected at No. 2827 Trinity street. R. H. Stapp is building for his own home a five-room cottage at No. 3209 Central avenue. At No. 1180 East Thirty-fifth street C. W. Westland is building a $1000 cottage.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Work was begun last week on the grading of North Broad street, from Brooklyn avenue to Sheridan street. An extensive district, including many of the streets in the Brooklyn Heights territory around Prospect Park, is being sewered. Mrs. Jane Johnson is the owner of a $1500 residence now building at No. 580 Euclid avenue. Fred Meyer is building a $1000 cottage at No. 320 Glass street. E. B. Youde has begun the erection of a five-room cottage at No. 607 North Chicago street, at a cost of $1400. F. A. Syra has built a small cottage for his own home at No. 3281 Eagle street. Louis Jacob of No. 613 North St. Louis street has gone to Germany to visit his old home. A meeting of the Broad-street school Child Study Circle was held in Hollenbeck Park Thursday afternoon. An interesting programme was rendered and luncheon was served. John Korbel has gone to St. Louis for a visit of four months. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Davis of No. 315 North Main street have gone to Sierra Madre for the summer.

Mrs. A. G. Fraley, who has been spending the winter here and at beach points, returned last week to her home in Taylorville, Ill. She will probably return in the fall to make her home here.

Celia Waklor is erecting a $1500 cottage at No. 2527 Cincinnati street.

At No. 454 South Street a two-story residence of ten rooms is under construction for Mrs. V. N. Minor, at a cost of $3000.

At No. 2436 Cincinnati street Edward Miller is building an $800 cottage.

GARVANZA.

The Garvanza Improvement Association has nearly completed its task of planting shade trees along the graded streets. Over four miles of trees have been planted and are being carefully watered and cultivated.

Criss & Myers report the following sales of real estate during the past week: From the San Rafael Ranch Company to Mrs. Anna Moore, one acre near Modesto avenue, from W. R. Judson to Miss Mary Mill, a lot on Avenue 64, near Ripton street; from Malcolm Campbell-Johnson to J. T. Davy a five-acre lot in the Rockdale tract.

A school election held in Annandale School District last Friday afternoon. J. Critch was reflected trustee for the ensuing term.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church held a supper in the Stanton Building on Avenue 44 Friday night, which was well attended and netted the society a considerable sum.

THE SOUTHWEST.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Vining are occupying their new home, No. 2639 Van Buren place. Mrs. Vining will be at home on the second and fourth Wednesdays.

Mrs. Lucia Burnett of No. 1801 Washington street has departed for an extended eastern trip, including the St. Louis fair and a visit to her relatives in Louisville, Ky. Among the entertainments of the past week in honor of Mrs. Burnett was a theater party and supper at the Angelus grill, given by E. Avery McCarthy of San Francisco. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Perkins, Miss Susie Howard, Mrs. Burnett, Mr. Cornelia Winder, Harry Turner, Volney Howard, Lane Easton.

East Side residents are awaiting with considerable interest the action of the City Council today on the granting of the "cross-over" electric railway franchise for Avenue 59. It is believed this franchise will be awarded to the Los Angeles Electric Railway company, and that the line will be built as a part of the new East Side line, which reaches out to Highland Park. It will prove of great convenience to the employees of the Southern Pacific shops, where about 2000 men are at work.

A movement is on for the opening of Moor street into East Main street, which will make the intersection just east of the Hahn Winery.

R. E. Page has sold to M. R. Hudson a lot on South Sycamore street, between East Main and Alhambra streets, for $500. Mr. Hudson will build on the lot at once.

Ireland; Banker, Fred Whipple; Escorte, F. A. Springman; Watchman, W. J. Miller; Sentry, C. B. Brierty; Manager for the district, J. H. Clark; Past Commander, A. H. Sever.

The wedding of Miss Grace Brint and Arthur Overell took place last Wednesday at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. J. C. Healy of the Asbury Methodist Church officiated. Only a few relatives and a few friends were present. After the wedding dinner the couple departed for the St. Louis Exposition.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Russell and Philip Goodwin will occur Thursday evening, June 16, in the Second Presbyterian Church. Miss Russell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Russell of No. 2732 East Main street, and Mr. Goodwin is a well-known young business man of South Spring street.

Clarence Sanborn, an East Side young man, was married on Sunday of last week to Miss Jane Green of Santa Barbara. The ceremony taking place in Tucson, Ariz., where he is employed with the Southern Pacific Railway.

PICO HEIGHTS.

For more than two weeks past Pico Heights has endured a water famine that has been almost unbearable; lawns and flower gardens have suffered greatly, some being ruined for lack of water.

At the water at the Berendsen school the sanitary conditions were such that the question of temporarily closing the school was seriously considered. Saturday morning last, the supply of aqua pura was perceptibly increased when the city main at Pico Heights was connected with the West Side system. Greater relief is promised for today, when the mains at Hoover and Washington and Adams and Seventh street will be connected.

A merry group of ladies and ladies gathered Friday evening at the home of

R. H. Herendeen, No. 1147 Dewey avenue, and an enjoyable season was spent in progressive games. Those present were Misses Edna Augur, Annette Barker, Leona Ludwick, Florence Wurtz, Rosa Blair, Maud McCall, Maud Jones, Carrie McCall, and Messrs. C. Blair, M. Boswell, W. Wurtz, R. Tanning, H. C. Chavin, H. Bentley and R. V. Peterson.

Those present were Charles Stanton, Stanley and Roland Decker, Chester McPherson, Lewis Taylor, George Smith, Tracy Burke, The Misses Sara Jackson and Mildred Clatworthy were the assistants of the host and hostess.

Sunday morning at the Congregational Church Rev. J. M. Schaeffe took for the subject of his discourse, "The Christian's Question." In the evening the title of the sermon was "The Purpose of Life."

Mr. and Mrs. Brasher, assisted by the Misses Flossie Sloan and Fay Maxim, entertained the Social Club of the Railway Postal Clerks last Friday evening. Miss Lloyd is the president of the association. J. K. Kidwell, Japanese lanterns gave the lawn a pretty oriental effect as the refreshments were being served to the large number of merry guests. The library was decorated with lavender sweet peas and buff nasturtiums. Crimson sweet peas and poppies made the hall a perfect bower. The dining-room and parlors were decorated in crimson and green. A short programme was rendered. Some of those taking part were Miss E. McKneeley, Miss Fay Maxim and R. Dixon.

Wednesday at noon, Miss May Buck was married to John Howard Copelin, at the home of the bride's parents, No. 2520 Pico street. The wedding was a quiet home affair, owing to the recent death of the groom's mother. The bride was dressed in white organdy over white silk. Her bouquet was of white carnations. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. M. Schaeffe of the Congregational Church, dinner was served.

Wednesday evening at the home of Rev. W. S. Blackburn, No. 1230 Berendo street, Miss Alice Hahn was married to T. W. Blackburn of Omaha, Neb., the youngest son of Rev. Blackburn. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Blackburn will leave for Omaha the latter part of this week.

John Burns sells lot 11 of McLean's subdivision, to Lang & Co. This lot is on the northwest corner of Pico street and Vermont avenue. A fine brick block will be erected immediately.

Clara Bunker sells through the Crescent Real Estate Company, to Leon Beardsley, lot 17, block 34, Electric Railway association tract, to be improved at once for a home.

LARGER CELERY CROP ASSURED.

PEAT LAND RANCHERS WILL PLANT ENORMOUS ACREAGE.

Annual Meeting of Celery Association to be Held Today and Important Reports Made by Representatives of the Growers—Why Orange County Celery Exports.

SANTA ANA, June 1.—Active preparations are being made in the peatlands for next winter's celery crop. Young plants are well started in the extensive seed beds and the regular celery acreage is being given its last cultivation before setting it out to the plants. The busy season commences the latter part of this month, when the work of transplanting from seed beds to the fields begins, a work which will continue until the middle of September, giving employment to scores of white and Japanese laborers. The total acreage for the coming season promises to be between 2500 and 3000, as compared with 2200 acres last year. The crop last season was 1600 cars, and under normal conditions will be about 2000. The future of the coming winter crop depends on the increased acreage and the failure in some cases of poor seed to give good plants, some difficulty is being experienced to get enough plants. The dry year will have little effect upon the crop as to quality or quantity, but growers will be compelled to do more irrigating than usual. In some of the upper lands where artesian water has been depended upon in former years, the flow is falling, and in many places gasoline and steam pumping plants are being installed.

Tomorrow the annual meeting of the Orange County Celery Growers Association, which controls the greater portion of the output of the fields, will be held at the home of George W. Moore, at R. Gerhart, C. C. Johnson, J. R. Fowler, A. L. Whiteside, J. C. Shaffer, Bentley, and others. The terms of the two last named expire and their successors are to be elected and the board of directors will be organized. The meeting will be held at 10:30 a. m. and reports of the year's work heard, including statements from Charles F. Bell, who represented the association this year in Los Angeles, and from William Gerhart, who has been in the east as representative for the growers. Gerhart's report will be particularly interesting as he not only is conversant with market conditions in all of the eastern cities where the peatland product is sold, but has also visited the Florida celery fields and those of Michigan and will give the results of his observations on celery culture there. In Florida, where the total season's crop is only about 200 cars as compared with 1600 here, the cost per acre of raising the vegetable amounts to from $300 to $400, while here it is from $100 to $200. The difference is accounted for by the fact that in Florida expensive artificial fertilizer has to be used in large quantities and there, where the plant double grows where here single grows only are set. The result is a much more expensive cultivation, but at the same time the yield there is about 2000 dozen per acre and here only about 1600 dozen. Florida, Michigan, New York State, Colorado, and the Orange county peatlands are the only celery producing sections in the United States, and the peatlands area is the largest in the world devoted to the culture of the vegetable.

SANTA ANA'S CHOICE.

Secretary N. A. Ulm of the Republican County Central Committee has received replies from seven of the ten members of the Congressional District Executive Committee, who are desirous to have the Congressional Convention held in Santa Ana this year, thus practically making sure of the event for this city.

Those who have expressed themselves in favor of Santa Ana are D. W. Mott of Ventura, Chairman C. C. Chapman of Placencia, George D. Goldman of San Diego, C. O. Barker of Riverside, C. G. Lamberson of Visalia, George Trapanier of Mojave and F. B. Daley of San Bernardino. The other three members of the committee, H. C. Booth of Santa Barbara, George W. McCabe of San Luis Obispo and Mark Watterson of Inyo, have not yet been heard from. The committee meets some time during July to make the formal selection of the convention city and to make other preparations for the gathering.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTIONS.

Results of the school district elections of yesterday as received at the office of County Superintendent of Schools Nichols show the following trustees elected: For Orange Union High School district, G. D. Tothaker of Orange, W. M. Gregg of El Modena, Albert Lee of Villa Park, D. F. Morford (incumbent) of Orange; for Bala Union High School, Charles Holt of Garden Grove, F. F. Skelley of Westminster, J. D. Finner of Bala; for Grove grammar, J. R. Fulmore; Bala grammar, J. D. Ross; El Modena grammar, E. Fransen and N. P. Close; Orange grammar, J. W. Campbell (three-year term) and D. F. Campbell (one-year term). The only contest that developed was over the election of the High School trustee to represent Orange. G. R. Tothaker and S. Amor were candidates for the office, and the 237 voters of the district scored 124 for Tothaker and 113 for Amor. At Orange it was voted by a large majority to discontinue the kindergarten department of the schools for the coming year on account of the large ratio of expense per pupil for maintaining it. Many who voted for discontinuing the kindergarten claim today that the ballot were ambiguously gotten up, and that in casting their votes they thought they were voting for its continuance. The confusion will probably lead to an appeal, and may cause the resubmission of the question.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

The Executive Committee of the Columbia Marching Club has issued a call for a meeting of all members of the organization for the night of June 14, at club headquarters on East Fourth street, when officers will be chosen and plans outlined for the coming campaign. The club will make its first drill this year at the time of the Congressional Convention, which will meet here in August.

ANAHEIM.

LONG SCHOOL COURSE.

ANAHEIM, June 1.—It is claimed by many parents that the school course adopted some time ago by the County Board of Education is entirely too long. The matter has been up for discussion here for several weeks, and a meeting of the County Board of Education, teachers from this end of the county, school trustees and a number of parents was recently held at the building last night with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the present course. It was almost the unanimous decision of the course is too long, and it was stated that only a few teachers in the county tried to follow it out. School Superintendent Nicholas seemed to be non-committal, but it is believed that the County School Board will soon take steps to revise the course.

APRICOT DRIER.

Apricot growers of Anaheim and Fullerton have formed an association, and expect to establish a drier in which to handle the entire product of this portion of the county. One or two driers have been built recently, but the association will hold another meeting at once to perfect an arrangement to build a drying plant, providing other arrangements are made to handle the present crop. A proposition is now being considered with the Ontario Fruit Packing Company to send representatives here to handle the crop this season right in Anaheim.

LOCAL VARIETIES.

Miss Hettie Weissel royally entertained twenty-five young women and gentlemen at a "house warming" at her father's home Friday evening. This fine new residence was recently completed, and the family moved into it only a few days ago. The programme consisted of a number of musical numbers which was followed by a sumptuous supper.

STRIKERS' JOBS ARE ALL FILLED.

BLACKSMITHS WHO LEFT SANTA ANA IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Ordered by Their National Officers to Return to Work Because There Was No Reason for Their Strike, They Are Told by Railroad Company That They Are Not Wanted.

SANTA ANA, June 1.—As a result of their foolish action in going out on strike in sympathy with the machinists when they themselves had no fault to find with the manner in which they were being treated, the forty-two blacksmiths who walked out of the Santa Fe shops some time ago now find themselves in serious trouble. After they had left their work, they sought support from their national organization and duly reported to their chief officers a statement of what they had gone on strike. In this statement the troubles of the machinists were reviewed and approval of their action in striking was asked.

Instead of being upheld by their national officers, the local blacksmiths were told plainly that they had no right to strike, and were ordered to return to work. This decision was rendered upon a statement sent by the local unionists themselves. The order from headquarters was mandatory and the strikers were told that unless they returned to work at once their charter in the national organization would be annulled.

Chagrined, disappointed, and feeling bitter toward their grand officers, the strikers prepared to obey the order. Yesterday the president and secretary of the local union called on the Santa Fe officials with a letter in which the blacksmiths were willing to return to work at once. They expected to be received with open arms, but to their amazement the company officials plainly but firmly stated to them that the Santa Fe needs no blacksmiths now. In other words, the blacksmiths were told that while they were wrangling among themselves, and while some of them were trying to induce other employees of the company to join the strike, the company had secured the services of a sufficient number of nonunion men to fill the places vacated by the strikers. Now that the blacksmiths have been ordered to return to work, the company does not see its way to make places for them by discharging men who stood by it in time of trouble.

The Santa Fe company issued passes to eighty of the men to come to town, and last night many of them availed themselves of the opportunity, having been promised protection from the police authorities. The officers of the unions took precautions to guard against friction, their purpose being to prevent any interference with the new men until after the United States Court has passed upon the injunction proceedings now pending at Los Angeles.

The San Bernardino Gas Company and the contractor for the city water mains are at sword points and a suit is threatened owing to the raising of the gas pipes at the corner of Seventh and G streets, which has allowed water to settle, choking the pipe and shutting off the gas circulation. It will be the duty of the contractor to remove the pipe to the depth of the line. The company threatens to sue the contractor and the city for damages.

SERIOUS FIRES AT RIVERSIDE.

RESIDENCES AND PACKING-HOUSES DESTROYED.

Families Rendered Homeless and Two Firemen Seriously Injured.

Fires Caused by Crossed Electric Wires Near Colton—Another Sore Defeat for Remnant of Hays Gang.

RIVERSIDE, June 1.—The crossing near Colton of telephone wires with a wire carrying a high-pressure current from one of the power plants threatened for a time the total destruction of the long line of packing-houses along the railroad and at another point endangered fine residences. Only the direction of the wind and the work done by the bucket brigade prevented a fire that might have destroyed a large portion of the city. As it was the loss will exceed $50,000, half a score of buildings being in ruins. Two firemen narrowly escaped death in an explosion during the fire. Several families are rendered homeless, and in one of them a diphtheria patient had to be removed from a burning building. The child of another family was afflicted with scarlet fever, and the excitement and exposure may result seriously to both these patients, who were temporary quarters in the packing-houses after the destruction of their homes.

The first alarm, sounded about 3 o'clock, and was caused by a fire on Packard avenue, where about 20 years old were found in the water under an abandoned power pole, by James Campbell, a laborer who happened to pass, and was attracted by the odor coming from the place. There was absolutely nothing to afford any clue to the man's identity except the figure of a butterfly tattooed on the breast and a five-pointed star on the right wrist, the work being similar to that frequently carried by sailors on their forearms. The fire department had more than it could safely handle, and it was impossible to answer the alarm. The fire, which it rapidly spread, was caused by the crossing of the wires, and the evidence all goes to show that the man was murdered in some other place, brought there and thrown into the water through an opening in the floor. He has been dead several days, and owing to the isolation of the spot might have been expected to have remained undiscovered for weeks.

CAUSED A STAMPEDE.

Mrs. Louise Lock, who was arrested for insanity yesterday, created a sensation about midnight by escaping from the Emergency and General Hospital clad only in her night dress. She developed a violent form of hysteria in her room and while the attendant was in another part of the building looking for a doctor the woman jumped from her window and ran down Crocker street to Fifth street, where she boarded a car for the Arcade depot. A stampede of passengers occurred when the thin-clad woman entered the car screaming at the top of her voice.

a deserving candidate for the position, have placed the name of J. M. Hibbard before Mr. Holmes, and are demanding that he be appointed. Hibbard's candidacy and the demands of his supporters are well known to the Smith-Wilson faction, and in the school trustee election on Friday they saw an opportunity for a test of strength. With the idea of showing up Hibbard and proving to Supervisor Holmes that the people of the district did not even want him for an unimportant position as school trustee, they induced R. C. George, one of the best men in the district, and a man entirely ignorant of the schemes of the push to swing the night as Hibbard's opponent. The blind had too many holes in it, however, and Hibbard's supporters "tumbled to the work was strenuous on both sides. With the usual lack of interest attending school trustee elections, not more than a dozen voters would have been polled, but by unceasing efforts from daylight till dawn, the conservatives were rallied to Hibbard's support, and the majority of the Smith-Wilson gang were no less busy. They ran in all the Mexicans who were working on the road, and voted all the nonentities they could stir up. The Smith-Wilson supporters, with the best of their efforts they could only poll 23 votes. And, amusing to relate, two of their foot had been carefully instructed to "vote for George" cast their votes for his boss, and the final vote stood: George Smith, 3; R. C. George, 27; J. M. Hibbard, 23; a total vote of 53, the largest that has ever been polled at a school election before.

With the failure of this scheme, the Smith-Wilson gang, taking instruction from their "great boss"—Thomas Hays—never say die, are now circulating a petition, and getting signatures from their Mexican road-workers and such-like specimens of citizenship—asking Holmes, for the good of the district, to maintain Smith in office and the conservatives, with no less insistency, are petitioning and demanding of the new Supervisor that Smith be ousted and Hibbard be appointed. The outcome will be watched with interest.

WOODMEN MEMORIAL.

Magnolia Camp, No. 92, Woodmen of the World, and the ladies of Orange Circle, with members of the invited Riverside camp and visiting Woodmen, turned out a number of about 200 this afternoon to celebrate the annual Woodmen Memorial Day. At 2 o'clock they gathered at Odd Fellows' Hall, to listen to a programme of music and address. The speaker C. L. McFarland, for the Woodmen, and Mrs. J. W. # HARD WORK NEVER KILLS

It never hurt anybody. But the thousands of tons of impure, indigestible, uncooked, unseasoned foods that are consumed every year by unthinking men, women and children, while they are doing hard work, lay the foundation for serious diseases, which render life wretched and end in premature death.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Testimonial Concert.

The sale of seats for L. Behymer's testimonial concert to be given at the Mason Opera-house tomorrow evening, is on at the Mason ticket office this morning.

For the Veterans.

Rev. E. P. Ryland, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, this city, will preach to the veterans at the Soldiers' Mission, in Sawtelle, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Claflin Concert.

A farewell concert will be given in Simpson Auditorium this evening by the Claflin Jubilee Singers, a company of students from Orangeburg, S. C., who have been attending the General Conference. The object of tonight's entertainment is to raise funds to assist in equipping a manual training building.

Southern Best Sale.

The sale of seats for E. H. Rothen's engagement at the Mason Opera-house—commencing Thursday night—will begin at the Mason box office this morning. There are limitations as to numbers of seats sold to individuals, the object being to prevent the work of "scalpers."

Fight in Restaurant.

James Hill and L. Wilson, two negroes, started a "rough house" in a Chinese restaurant yesterday afternoon which was not ended until tables, chairs and crockery and windows had been smashed, and the place practically wrecked. The men quarreled over the price of a meal, and several others joined. Officer Walsh stopped the row and arrested the principals.

Drug Store Burglarized.

H. Kollwicks, a druggist at No. 1009 West Temple street, reported to the police yesterday that his store was entered Saturday night by burglars who secured $1.45 in money, three watches, several chains and other articles of merchandise. Entrance was effected by forcing the front door after the burglar had made an unsuccessful attempt to get in the rear.

Charged With Grand Larceny.

Frank Rogers, who was arrested by Patrolman Lennon late Saturday night as a suspect, will be prosecuted on a charge of grand larceny. The officers assert that they have secured positive evidence that the prisoner stole a bicycle which he was trying to sell at the time he was arrested. Rogers is said to have more than $500 in bank, and what prompted him to steal the bicycle, if he did steal it, is not known.

Temple Union.

The literary section of the "Temple Union" will close its work for this season on Tuesday evening next, at the vestry rooms of Temple. "Banal Fifth," corner Hope and Ninth streets, Lammis has consented to be the speaker. His subject will be: "Saving Old California," and will demonstrate by the successful phonograph records, as well as by some Indian musicians of well-merited renown. The lecture will be free, and a cordial invitation is hereby extended to the public.

Paving Downey Avenue.

The East Side Improvement Association is the latest organization to enter the list for the rebuilding of the city. It is now fairly launched, and bids fair to be as successful as those in other sections. The first matter that is considered by the society is the paving of Downey avenue, and possibly Pasadena avenue. City Engineer H. F. Stafford has given the association figures on the approximate cost of paving and guttering. He thinks the cost of paving and guttering would be about $1 per foot.

Little Girl Missing.

Roberta Wagner, who lived with her parents at No. 464 North Avenue 22, and who is only 10 years of age, has been missing from home since Saturday afternoon, and her relatives last night appealed to the police for assistance in the effort to find her. The members of the family are not particularly alarmed as to the safety of the child, and one of her relatives stated in the Police Station last night that in his opinion she had gone to visit some friend and that she would return home today, but he had been unable to find any of her friends who had seen her. His evidence no one was particularly alarmed as to the safety of the child, and one of her relatives stated in the Police Station last night that in his opinion she had gone to visit some friend and that she would return home today, but he had been unable to find any of her friends who had seen her. #### Channing Elery Laid up.

Channing Elery, manager of Elery's Band, will be confined to the house for several days with an affection of the cords of the leg which makes it impossible for him to walk. The affliction came upon him suddenly yesterday. Mr. Elery last week made a very successful start toward securing engagements at Manhattan Beach, Long Beach, before going to the World's Fair July 4 for a two-weeks' engagement there. Mr. Elery expects to accept the Denver offer instead of making a tour through Texas. The large expenses of the band's eastern trip make it imperative for Mr. Elery to raise funds here to guarantee against loss, and he hopes that the entire amount needed can be raised this week.

Twist Took French Leave.

Oliver Twist, one of the most notorious negroes in the city, who spends eight months out of the year every twelve in jail, made his escape from the City Jail yesterday afternoon only to be again arrested on a charge which will probably result in his being sent to the state prison. He was a trustee and spent the afternoon sweeping the hallways at the Police Station. About 7:30 p.m. he was seen by a window ledge on the First-street side of the building. Later he was missed, and the building was searched but no trace of the negro could be found. About 7:30 o'clock last night Patrolman John Collins found Twist at Temple and Spring streets, fighting drunk, and conducting himself in such manner that several men threatened to assault him. The officer handcuffed him and returned him to jail. He may be prosecuted for breaking jail, for exposure of person, and, on an additional charge of intoxication. Instead of being a trustee hereafter, it is probable that he will become a member of the chain gang.

Tyndall on Divorce.

The question of divorce, which has been agitated considerably of late in the press and pulpits, and which was discussed yesterday afternoon at Blanchard Hall, Dr. Alexander J. McIlvor-Tyndall, who is probably the greatest expert of psychology in the study, particularly as it relates to everyday questions, who has ever lectured here, treated of the subject in a manner quite new to many of his hearers. There was as usual a large audience, many of his auditors being practitioners of law. The speaker declared that there is a very wrong disposition to regard divorce as an "evil condition" of society. This, he declared, is a mistake, inasmuch as divorce is not in itself a condition, but merely a reminder of a condition, just as pain is nothing more than a calling attention to an inharmonious condition of the body. It is not the condition itself. Therefore to legislate against divorce is as absurd as it would be to enact laws against pain when one is suffering from ill-health. Among other things the lecturer said: "Until such time as each individual unit shall come to recognize his oneness with all life and the fact that he must find for himself the law of life, which is harmony, divorce is as necessary as surgery. The one is the best remedy we have at hand for the mental harmony, and the other the most feasible means at hand when the body is in a state of great inharmoniousness. Neither remedy is necessary to the one who has come into a realization of the soul's birthright, but both are spoken in the wheel of progress, both are an answer—however imperfect—to the soul's demand for freedom and health and happiness." Next Sunday McIlvor-Tyndall will speak on "The Keepers of the Threshold."

The regular monthly meeting of the Sunset Boulevard Improvement Association was held on Friday evening at the Randall-street store, in which the meetings will be held on the first Monday of each month, at the real estate office of Rannells & Wicks, corner of Alameda street and Sunset boulevard. Much indignation was expressed by members at the peculiar action of Street Superintendent Werdin in accepting the boulevard on June 15, although three days previously a statement had been presented by the City Engineer criticizing serious defects in the work and this statement had been taken cognizance of by the City Council. This matter will not be allowed to rest, but will be brought to the attention of the Council. Some complaint has been made lately in regard to the car service along the boulevard. The letter was read from Superintendent Larrabee to the editor of the "House and Lot" department, in which he stated that he is now working on a new table under which Hill Colegrove and Hollywood cars will be turned at Fourth street, and in that way shorten the run, insuring greater regularity in the service. This will be good news to the residents in the northwestern section and Hollywood.

DEDICATION OF THE PRETTY CHURCH.

AN EVENT FOR CATHOLICS OF PICO HEIGHTS.

Edifice Christened for St. Thomas the Apostle—Crowds at Opening Exercises—Methodist Bell is Surmounted by Cross—Sermon by Father Maloney.

Crowded to its fullest capacity at yesterday's dedication was the Little Catholic Church on Peders street, recently purchased from the Methodists. The former Methodist church has been completely changed, the altar service being placed at the western end of the building, thus affording a larger seating capacity. There have been substituted for chairs, and the tower containing the famous Methodist-Catholic bell is surmounted by a cross.

At the opening of the evening service Rev. P. Haws of Santa Monica was the celebrant of vespers. The Gregorian chant was sung by a choir of priests consisting of Fathers O. J. Kaiser, D. W. J. Murphy and G. Donahue, Father J. J. Clifford, pastor of the church, having the principal solo part. The speaker of the evening was Father Maloney of the Church of St. Agnes. In his opening words the young priest spoke of the work being carried on by Father J. J. Clifford, saying that God's blessing was upon the work and opening ministry of the pastor of the Church of St. Thomas the Apostle. Continuing, Father Maloney said: "Our age is one of progress and refinement. Modern civilization is fast eliminating from society the errors of the past centuries. Science is understood as never before, and the mysteries of nature are an open book to the student. Ours is the grandest and noblest age in the history of the world. But there seems to be something lacking in our materialistic life of today. Man is a social and a moral being and the sublime secrets of the human soul are known only to God.

The salvation of our mortal souls is as far above human reason as the heavens are above the earth. Our Holy Mother the church has withstood the shock of ages, intent always on her mission of teaching the nations that God can save. Pardon and mercy shall be the motto of the church of the future. After the sermon special services were held peculiar to Corpus Christi Day.

Rev. D. W. J. Murphy acted as organist during the celebration of the closing mass, and Rev. P. Haws was assisted by Fathers J. J. Sheedy, deacon, and Rev. S. Cain subdeacon.

Trained Nurses' Long Hours.
"It always makes me smile to hear men talk about their long hours," said the trained nurse. "If by any possible chance a man hasn't had his clothes off for twenty-four hours you never hear the end of it, unless perhaps the occasion has been an all-night poker game or something of the sort which he isn't so apt to talk about. But ordinarily he makes a great fuss over his long hours, particularly if due to a stress of work or some unexpected duty. Now, a trained nurse, even though one of the generally accepted 'weaker sex,' thinks nothing, when occasion demands, of going three or four days and nights without once closing her eyes. I was recently called to a typhoid-fever case on a Thursday, and on rare cases I have gone even longer than that without any sleep at all. Of course, we try to make up for it afterward, but it's a good bit like cheating Natty."—(Philadelphia Record.)
